

6th Grade Science Word Search 8

1. First, write the correct clue number to the left of each word in the Word Bank. Then, circle the words that have been hidden vertically, horizontally, and diagonally.

- A natural resource that can be replaced.
- A type of rock that forms from the cooling of molten rock at or below the surface.
- A factor that can change in an experiment.
- Reproduction that requires two organisms.
- Group of similar cells that perform a particular function.
- Control center of the cell which contains DNA.
- Materials found in nature that cannot be renewed or replaced.
- The amount of matter in an object, not how much it weighs.
- Heat energy.
- The transfer of energy by electromagnetic waves.
- The energy of motion.
- A logical procedure for gathering and testing ideas.
- Rock that has been changed by heat and pressure.
- A rock formed by layers of sediments squeezed and stuck together over a long time.
- Energy of position; stored energy.
- Variable that is changed in an experiment.
- Statement about how things work in nature that seems to be consistently true.

renewable resource
sedimentary rock
igneous rock
scientific method
radiation
nucleus

variable
thermal energy
sexual reproduction
metamorphic rock
law
mass

nonrenewable resource potential energy
kinetic energy
tissue
independent variable